

Signing up for the NO CALL list means just that - NO CALLS. If I change banks there is a reason and I should not have to put up with them calling and trying to get my business back. They should have done what it took to keep it in the first place. If you start modifying this now, you leave it open for all other companies to come up with a reason that THEY should also be allowed to call.